A.H.S. Principal May Not Return

A. H. S. Principal Grant Rush

Mr. Grant Rush, principal of Appomattox High School, is understood to have informed local school authorities that he does not plan to return to his current position after the close of his school year. It is reported that he plans to accept a position as principal of the Brookville Elementary School.

Mr. Rush has been highly esteemed in Appomattox, and has successfully filled the post of high school principal for two years. Many patrons will regret to hear of his decision not to return for another term.

The matter of a successor will be taken up at the next meeting of the county school board, scheduled for May 9.

Restocking At Bear Lake

Bear Creek Lake in the Cumberland State Forest, drained last fall will be restocked this spring but will remain closed to finishing until May 30, 1962.

Because an overabundance of undesirable fish had made fishing there poor, State Game Commission fish biologists J. R. Sheridan and R. J. Domrose, assisted by Division of State Parks personnel, drained Bear Creek Lake last November. They found 65 percent of the fish present to be rough fish, primarily suckers, bullheads, and large golden shiners. The bluegill and crappie populations were stunted and the bass population was low.

The lake will be restocked with largemouth bass, bluegill and white catfish this spring and remain closed for a year to allow sufficient time for growth and reproduction. Other facilities on the area—swimming, boating and picnicking—will be available as usual.

EXHIBIT OF MONEY IN LOCAL BANK

The development of money "from the Stone Age to the Space Age" is now being shown in an exhibit of pictures in the lobby of the Bank of Appomattox. The pictures were commissioned by American Express Company and show how circumstances of history and developments of commerce and travel influenced the various forms of money. The series of 39 pictures shows how coins, currency, letters of credit, travelers cheques and other forms were created to meet specific needs.

The pictures also show the striking changes that banks have gone through, from "marble halls where only the rich were welcome and the ordinary citizen out of place," to the bank of today which is more like a "money supermarket," serving everybody.

This exhibit will be on display for several weeks, as an educational display for the community, and special groups from the schools have been invited to view it.

TRACK TEAM

Appomattox H. S. found that you have to run swiftly and jump high in order to win a track meet. The local track team was overwhelmed on Wednesday by the Rustburg High School, 98¼ to 19½. Rustburg won every first place in the meet. For Appomattox, John Canada tallied 7 points.

Track is a new sport at A. H. S., and the coaches believe that with a bit of experience, the local team will be able to come up adequately in inter-school competition.

$87 billion buget estimated for 1963.

Time Problem As D.L.S Starts

A twirling uncertainty has arisen as to "what time is it" in this area. Appomattox seems to be "holding the line" and clinging to Eastern Standard Time, however, Lynchburg and many other Virginia localities will switch over to Daylight Saving Time on May 1, moving the clocks an hour.

Since many in Appomattox and its immediate area, have employment in Lynchburg, many of them will have to "go to work" an hour earlier. Lynchburg employers, such as Babcock & Wilcox, General Electric, Craddock-Terry, Mead Corporation, N&W, etc, which have on their employee lists many from Appomattox, are changing over to the daylight savings time, as of May 1.

A few places in Lynchburg, are holding their clocks on Standard time, but advancing working hours, to conform to the new time schedule. All Lynchburg post offices will follow this pattern. The Lynchburg post office will have all delivery and receipt of mails moved up an hour, as of Monday, but the will remain Standard Time.

Lynchburg public schools will operate on Daylight Saving Time.

Campbell County schools will remain on Standard Time.

As for Appomattox, there has been no official action. It appears that the clocks will remain on the Standard Time. However, at the State Police headquarters here, it was stated that although the clocks would remain the same, personnel would report to work one hour earlier, since many areas served by this division headquarters would be on Daylight Savings Tuse.

At Transco, it was reported that there would be no time change.

The State Highway headquarters here reported no planned change in time or hours.

To add to the much of the nation, and much of Virginia, including the city of Lynchburg, will go on Daylight Saving Time on May 1, but Appomattox, and Appomattox County will apparently hold to the Standard Tune.

The Big Question will be; "What Time Is It?"
